Presentation

Born as blog and later evolved into a site and then a real portal, DubaiBlog is the brand of our agency. Founded in 2007 with a different name, the first portal got the current name in 2009 and we are proud to go on using that one for our company; our organization is mainly involved in Consultancy, Video and Media Production, Social Media and Web Communication projects, PR, helping businessmen & companies in having a correct social & media approach internationally and to manage their key web-aspects by:

- developing their advertising, communication strategy and mottos on the web
- following and supporting video production & video strategy
- promoting their brand with ads on our web and social channels
- ensuring media coverage during events
- supporting public relations in the area
- putting a positive spin on the promotion of offered products/services

Keep on blogging! Follow us on our social channels

PRONTI VIA MOLLO TUTTO

Chiedi al nostro esperto

Vorresti mollare tutto e trasferirti a Dubai? Chiedi consiglio al nostro esperto Nico De Corato, autore del blog DubaiBlog.it. Scrivi a: esperto@millionaire.it entro il 31 marzo, specificando "Dubai" nell'oggetto della e-mail.

Vado a DUBAI e non torno più

Cresce il Pil, corre l'economia. C'è lavoro. C'è il sole. Negli Emirati Arabi la crisi è passata. E tanti italiani si sono già trasferiti tra Dubai e Abu Dhabi. Storie, consigli (e qualche avvertenza) per cambiare vita nel Golfo Persico.

EMIRATI

DOVE PUNTARE LA BUSSOLA

Numeri positivi

Appuntamento a Dubai al 2020, anno in cui la città ospiterà il World Expo (<http://expo2020dubai.ae>) previsto un investimento di sei miliardi di euro, la creazione di quasi 300mila posti di lavoro e la presenza di 25 milioni di visitatori. «Poco dopo l'annuncio dell'assegnazione della manifestazione, l'economia ha ricominciato a volare», dice Nico de Corato, 37 anni, ingegnere che vive a Dubai e fonda il sito DubaiBlog.it (admin@dubaiBlog.it), portale di servizio per imprenditori e turisti. Parlano i numeri: Pil in crescita del 4,5%, inflazione inferiore al 2% e un tasso di disoccupazione inferiore al 5%. In preparazione per gli impegni futuri, la rincorsa per aggiungere subito alle attrattive locali è già iniziata: lo scorso gennaio le autorità locali hanno annunciato lavori di restauro alle costruzioni storiche cittadine, in parallelo ai numerosi altri progetti già in essere. Tra questi, il Guggenheim Abu Dhabi (<http://guggenheim.org/qa>) previsto per il 2017: un complesso su 30mila mq di cui 12mila dedicati a esposizioni d'arte, laboratori di restauro, arte e tecnologia.

La notizia più bella riguarda il Fisco

Negli Emirati non esistono imposte dirette, i pochi prelievi sono regolati da basse percentuali. L'investimento necessario per avviare un'attività indipendente, completo di Visa e licenza, in genere non supera 10mila euro e richiede un mese di tempo. Attenzione, però: «In realtà ci sono tasse indirette. Per esempio quella sull'affitto della casa, in percentuale al suo valore. Oppure il pedaggio da pagare per chi va in auto: costa circa un euro, ma ci sono diversi caselli. La conversione della patente d'auto costa 100 euro. L'accesso al Web (costa 20 euro al mese, ndr), è caro. Vero però che altre voci sono più convenienti di quelle italiane: per esempio i mutui di acquisto casa-sottilezza Alberto Galasso, italiano residente in Abu Dhabi (qui)». Alta questione

Staff

Graduated in Telecommunication engineering with a Master Thesis about telemetry in motor sport competition, in 2004, Nico de Corato lands in Dubai for the first time in the same year, as person in charge for the timing system of the World Powerboat Championship Class 1. In 2007 he starts his freelance activity as business consultant for the Italian companies willing to approach the Emirati market and opens a first website about Dubai. In 2009 he renamed that website in DubaiBlog. After that he opens also other portals (tobettravelagent.com, dubayblog.com, dubayjobs.com, and many others, becoming WordPress specialist and Social Media Marketing Expert) creating the agency, he currently manages. He recently published the book "Dialecto Emiratino" together with Hanan Al Fardan and Abdulla Al Kaabi.
